Wreck of a Bark at Santa Cruz.

WHERE CAN PETE OLSEN BE?

The City of Peking Out of Quarantine—Judge Wm. Strong's Death at Portland.

Associated Press Dispatches to the Herald. SANTA CRUZ, April 10.—The bark J. W. Weaver, loaded with hay and salt, bound for Astoria, foundered on the rocks near New Year's point, about twenty miles north of this place, at 9 o'clock this morning. The vessel had lost its rudder and was driven by the wind and waves against the coast. Two men succeeded in reaching the shore, although narrowly escaping drowning. The remainder of the crew took to the rigging. The people from the surrounding country gathered, but from the latest reports had been unable to do anything towards rescuing the crew. Two men were seen in the rigging. One side of the vessel is stove in. That she will become a total wreck is probable, as the wind and sea are very violent.

PETE OLSEN, THE MURDERER, Still Uncaught, but Wending His Way Down Here.

NAPA, April 10.—Sheriff Harris returned to-day, after a month's search for Pete Olsen in Tulare and Kern counties. From the description given, he is quite certain that the man seen in Cottonwood cañon about five weeks ago is Pete. Harris followed Pete in the direction of San Luis Obispo and there lost all trace of him.

Death of an Able Judge.

PORTLAND, Oreg., April 10.—Judge William Strong died this morning at the residence of Thos. N. Strong, his son, of inflammation of the liver, aged 70. He came to Oregon Territory in 1850 with a commission from President Fillmore as United States Judge. He was the descendant of the noted New England family of the Strong and a man marked by ability, until eight years ago, when he became broken in health. He stood foremost among lawyers in Oregon. He leaves four grown sons and two daughters.

THE WILLAMETTE BRIDGE.

Portland and Her Suburb Joined After Several Years.

PORTLAND, April 10.—Last night the bridge across the Willamette, connecting the cities of Portland and East Portland was finished, and to-day foot passengers were allowed to cross free. Though the weather was showery all day, about twenty thousand people availed themselves of the pleasing novelty of walking across the river. To-morrow the bridge will be ready for teams. The structure is 1254 feet long, not including its approaches, and the draw spring is 340 feet. It moves perfectly, opening in one and three-fourths minutes. The experience thus far indicates that the bridge will be little obstruction to navigation. The work was begun in 1872. The piers were built and the approaches were constructed when an injunction was a led for and granted in the United States court. The injunction was made permanent and the case carried to the United States Supreme court. The decision in the United States Supreme court in the case of the bridge was virtually decided in favor of this bridge and the injunction was removed. The work was resumed last September and pushed to completion. The Pacific bridge company, of San Francisco, were the builders, and are large stockholders in it.

AN INQUIRIOUS ACT.

Arresting Poor Farmers Who Cut Wood for their Own Use.

BILLINGS, M. T., April 10.—Warrants have just been issued for the arrest of nine farmers of the Yellowstone valley, between Billings and Park City. These arrests will be followed by many others. Their offense is cutting timber on the Crow reservation. Nearly all the timber in this neighborhood is on the reservation, and during the late severe winter farmers along the river were obliged to cross on the Crow reservation to get fuel. Though closely watched they were not interfered with, but a tally was kept, and now the deputy United States Marshals and other officials will reap a rich harvest from the wholesale sale of timber in seventy-five miles from the agency, around which the Indians are collected.

Yolo County on Deck for Development.

WOODLAND, Cal., April 10.—An enthusiastic meeting was held at the court-house to-night, and the Yolo County Board of Trade and Immigration Association was organized. A constitution and by-laws were adopted, setting forth that its object is the advancement of all material interests of Yolo county. The following were chosen directors: G. H. Jackson, P. S. Reed, of Knights Landing; J. S. Tuttle, of Madison; W. L. Wood, of Davisville; T. G. Snider, of Washington. A large number of citizens signed the roll, and a committee of five, viz: L. W. Hilliker, C. T. Bidwell, W. H. Ludden, G. H. Jackson and W. M. Coward, was appointed to solicit members and money contributions. Active operations will begin at once.

THE INTERSTATE LAW.

Mr. Stanford's Views on the Enforcement of a Section.

[Crowded out of yesterday's issue.] SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—The Atta this morning publishes an interview with Leland Stanford, President of the Southern Pacific company, regarding the effect of the enforcement of Section 4 of the Interstate Commerce law on the commerce of San Francisco. He said: "The literal enforcement of the fourth section of the Interstate Commerce law would be simply ruinous and destructive of our commerce, not only with China and Japan, but with Australia and all other countries whose trade naturally comes to us by way of the Pacific coast. You see, through freight business is but a small proportion, probably not more than fifteen per cent. of our whole carrying trade. It is upon our local business we depend for profit. This may be said of all roads, and will be true of every road that reaches the Pacific coast. Brought as we are by our location into competition with the great water ways of the ocean we cannot make a rate where the means of transportation by water and by rail are co-existing. The water way which is naturally the cheapest means of transport will always make the rate and the railroads must follow or forego business. Now our agents in China and Japan are brought face to face with competitive rates by way of the Suez Canal by water and rail across the Isthmus of Panama and by all water around Cape Horn. Hitherto, we have tried to meet this competition by giving rates which if not as low as those by water, were, when combined with the added advantages of speed, sufficient to secure a large proportion of the business. Those rates of themselves would not be remunerative; that is to say, if our whole carrying business was conducted on the same basis it would not pay the operating expenses of the road and the interest on the investment; but, as we are compelled to keep our track and rolling stock and operate our road anyway, through business, even at those low rates, contributes toward paying the expenses of the road, and to that extent operates in a measure to enable us to make lower rates on local business than otherwise would be possible. Now, however, we are brought face to face with this proposition. If the law is to be literally enforced, and we cannot make a special rate for all this through business, we shall be compelled to choose between breaking and through business, and in that event naturally we will have to forego the through business."

SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 10.—F. R. Wetmore, one of the leading real estate dealers in this city and Secretary of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce, was arrested yesterday on a warrant from San Francisco, returnable before Judge Lawlor, charging him with wrongfully appropriating $4000 belonging to the stock brokers of the firm of Wetmore & Warren, which failed and went through insolvency in that city some two years ago. A writ of habeas corpus was sworn out before Judge Woods yesterday afternoon, but the prisoner was remanded to the custody of the officers and will be tried in San Francisco.

Harry Wilkes' Performance.

NEW YORK, April 10.—A great deal of interest has been excited over the recent performance of Harry Wilkes in California. "It was a wonderful trial at this time of the year," Henry Sire remarked a day or two ago. "We will match Harry Wilkes against any trotting horse, mare or gelding in mile heats, best three in five, for $1000 to $10,000 a side. As R. B. Bonner will not trot his horses for a stake or money, we will trot the little horse against Maud S. for fun or for a trophy when he gets here."

THE PACIFIC RAILROADS.

Appointment of the Commissioners to Investigate them.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 10.—The President this evening appointed as Commissioners to investigate the affairs of the Pacific railways, under the act passed by the last Congress, Robert T. Patterson of Pennsylvania; E. Elery Anderson of New York, and David T. Litterer, of Illinois.

Mr. Patterson was born in Maryland and graduated from the Philadelphia high school in 1872 and was admitted to the bar in the same year. In 1887 he was nominated by the Democrats for Controller of that city, was elected and re-elected in 1890.

In 1882 he was nominated by the Democrats for Governor of Pennsylvania, and was elected by a large majority. He retired from that office last January, and resumed the practice of the law in Philadelphia.

Mr. Anderson was born in 1833, graduated at Harvard college in 1852, was admitted to the New York city bar in 1854, and since has been in the active practice of his profession in that city. In politics he has always been a Democrat, and has been connected with many reform movements in that city. He was one of the leading men in the organization of the County Democracy, and he was for some time chairman of its general committee. He has been especially connected with much important litigation involving close examination of the methods of railroad corporations.

Associated Press Dispatches to the Herald. TACOMA, W. T., April 10.—For some days past there has been much dissatisfaction between the Chinese laborers working on the Pacific division of the Northern Pacific railroad and the Chinese agents from Portland. Yesterday they captured one of the newly arrived agents and attempted to take his life. When the guards interfered a fight ensued in which the Chinese used rocks, clubs, hatchets and shovels. The guards after a time opened fire on the Chinese who immediately scattered. Six of the Chinese were injured, two of them severely and one fatally. One died this morning.

PARCHED UP TEXAS.

Lame-able scene of desolation owing to want of rain. GALVESTON, Tex., April 10.—The past week has been one of expectancy and disappointment to the people of Texas, no rain of any consequence having fallen throughout the immense area now suffering from drought. Dispatches and letters to the Galveston News: the San Antonio Express and other papers of the State continue to detail the widespread and threatening character of the drought which has perceptibly increased since the last report. The drought now extends from the far western grazing lands across the State, for a distance of 800 miles, into the pine regions bordering Louisiana, but decreases in severity as it approaches the pines, from which section the complaints are of recent date. The general rains which usually set in at the fall of the season have not yet come, and the winds of the past fortnight continue to prevail, except in the district immediately southwest of San Antonio, embracing Medina, Bander, Uvalde, Frio and Atascosa counties, where moderate rains fell yesterday, but not enough, as the dispatches from that vicinity say. This is one of the grazing sections of the State where stock was dying. Between San Antonio and the coast, embracing such fertile counties as Guadalupe, Gonzales, Lavaca, Colorado, Comal, Bexar, and a dozen others, the drought has assumed a serious aspect, putting an embargo upon all agricultural development, especially cotton, the chief product of this section. One correspondent describes the roadways as "barren even of weeds, while fields of cattle, almost too poor to stand up, are traveling constantly in search of grass and water. In central Texas embracing about thirty counties, surrounding Waco, Corsicana and Burnet, the situation is scarcely less promising, all reports agreeing that nothing but very early and plentiful rains will avert serious damage or the failure of crops. In northern and north western Texas the drought is not as severe, but the pine regions, but some of the crops are increasing daily. A slight sprinkling of rain fell during the week in Mitchell county, along the line of the Texas and Pacific road, but no report of rainfall in the great Panhandle district has yet been received. The result of the drought is notable by the scarcity of early vegetables. At the principal points the anxiety over the situation is becoming greater every day. Wholesale houses here are calling their drummers off the road, country merchants refuse to buy, pending the uncertainty of the crop outlook.

The grass is now growing nicely in the Sixth Street Park and it presents a beautiful appearance. The credit of transforming this public place from a desecrated sheep pasture to a bower of loveliness is largely due to Councilman L. B. Reed, late Chairman of the Committee on Parks. There is unclaimed at the office of Wells, Fargo & Co. a lad 10 years old named D. People ran into the streets in a panic, many supposing that a terrific explosion had occurred near by.

Explosion in Saxony—Rioting Socialists Arrested—The Sealing Steamer Eagle.

Associated Press Dispatches to the Herald.

QUEBEC, April 10.—The following circular letter bearing on the Knights of Labor question was read in the different Roman-Catholic churches to-day: "To Arch-Bishop Poirer, of Quebec, April 5, 1887: In September, 1884, the Holy See, consulted by me on the propriety of the Knights of Labor, condemned it under pain of grievous sin and charged the bishops to deter their diocese therefrom, as I did in my circular letter 131 of the 22d of February, 1885. After representations made by their lordships, the United States bishops, the Holy See has suspended until further orders the effect of that sentence. In consequence I authorize the confessor of my diocese to absolve the Knights of Labor on the following conditions, which it is your bounden duty to explain to them, and make them observe. First, that they confess and sincerely repent the grievous sin which they committed by not obeying the decrees of September, 1884. Second, that they be ready to abandon this Society as soon as the Holy See shall order it. Thirdly, that they sincerely and explicitly promise, absolutely to avoid all that may either directly or indirectly lead to the formation of a new society, or to the renewal of the old one. I prolong the time of the Paeval Communion until the feast of the Ascension, inclusively. Please accept, sir, the assurance of my sincere attachments."

E. A. CARDINAL TACHEAU, Arch-Bishop of Quebec.

There is great rejoicing among the Knights of Labor at the withdrawal of Cardinal Tacheau's mandament of 1884. The decree of the circular letter has been well weighed by the knights and will be accepted by them.

MISSING AGAIN.

The Weekly Attempt Upon the Car "No Go."

VIENNA, April 10.—A correspondent of the Post says that a report is current to the effect that another attempt to murder the Car was made on the Moravia road, St. Petersburg, last Wednesday. A student and a woman were arrested who were carrying bombs under their plaids.

LONDON, April 10.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg to the Daily News says: The most alarming reports respecting the Car have been in circulation here. One rumor was to the effect that a mine had been discovered under the Imperial palace at Gatchina, but it is learned on the best authority that this report is untrue; also that no arrests have been made at Gatchina, as was reported. On Wednesday, however, the Car was driving to Gatchina station a man and a woman were seized at the corner of the Nevski Prospect and the Great Moravia ten minutes before the Car's carriage passed. Another person tried to present a petition to the Car, but was arrested before he could reach the carriage. It has not been ascertained positively whether or not the persons arrested had any criminal intentions. The Car was in perfect health and excellent spirits.

Visitors and Berlin telegrams confirm the foregoing and state that the cultists stood upon the steps of the uninhabited house, at No. 14, and carried bombs under their plaids. It is supposed that the petitioner was an accomplice of the other two and did not know that the latter had been arrested. The Car knew nothing of the arrests. He sat behind the Carzina and kept bowing to the populace. They were returning to Gatchina from the Winter palace where they had been receiving the Japanese prince.

Base Ball Games Stopped in the Parks by the Sheriff.

LONG ISLAND CITY, L. I., April 10.—About sixty deputy sheriffs, in three divisions, under the command of the Sheriff, John Mitchell, under Sheriff Goldner and Captain Kavanagh visited the various parks used as base ball grounds, in the villages of Maspeth, Middleville and Ridgewood, Queens county, this afternoon and stopped the games in progress. At the Atlantic Park, where the Cuban Giants and Newark were playing before about four thousand spectators, Captain Kavanagh and his fifteen deputies were surrounded by a crowd, and for a time it looked as if there would be trouble. Some of the players proceeded with the game, despite the presence of the officers, and others picked up stones, threatening the officers' lives. Finally the mob was driven off and the playing ceased.

Annie's House Burned.

OAKLAND, April 10.—A fire last night destroyed the residence of Annie A. Matter. The loss is $1000, but the place was insured.

THE GALE.

A House Blown Down and Several Unroofed.

The high wind of yesterday was productive of considerable anxiety and some damage. While the travelers did not feel particularly pleased at the dust which was swept in every direction by the gale, they were not kept at home but attended the Easter services in full force. Early in the day news was received that a house had blown down on Hope street, between First and Second.

It was afterward ascertained that it had occurred just about dinner time, when the families who occupied it were about to refresh their themselves. The house was new having been built only about a month and was the property of Alvin Glush. It was a cottage of one story and basement, and the upper part was boarded in but the basement had been left unfinished. It was in the unfinished part that the wind obtained its purchase power and as the cottage was built on the side of a hill the pressure obtained was greater than was the case on level ground. There were two families in the upper part of the cottage, Mrs. Gallup and son and J. T. Williams, wife and five children, and it was almost a miracle that they escaped unhurt. Mrs. Gallup and son had just seated themselves at the dinner-table when they felt the house tremble violently, and they lost no time in making a hasty exit. The Williams family were in the midst of their dinner and had hardly reached the door when the house turned over and went to pieces with a crash, wrecking their furniture and crockery in a wholesale manner. It is stated that one looking glass was annihilated, but everything else was damaged. The cottage cost $1500 and is a total wreck.

At the baseball ground the roof of the new stand, which has only been in position a few days, was lifted from its supports and blows a distance of about ten feet.

The tin roof on a new building on Second street, between Fort and Hill streets, blew off and was scattered in pieces all over the neighborhood.

During the height of the gale the tents at the smallpox hospital were torn from their fastenings and the contents scattered in considerable confusion.

There were numerous trees blown down in several parts of the city, and some of the flimsy signboards were way early in the day. The streets dried up very quickly under the influence of the wind and hardly a trace of the late rain was left by 6 o'clock.

A DELIGHTFUL TRIP.

The Town of Orange on a Still Hunt.

By the politeness of Messrs. A. L. Teale and C. Z. Culver, a pleasant party of visitors Saturday took an excursion to the beautiful village of Orange. The day was delightful. A copious shower had put all the dust to rest and washed and aroused the millions of orange blossoms and other flowers into cleanliness and fragrance.

Among the happy excursionists were observed the following: Hon. J. W. Hoyt, Governor of Wyoming, a well known scientist; Geo. A. Steel, A. Stunt, W. H. Gowan, Seth B. Olmstead, Mrs. H. M. Chaffey, R. A. Buchanan, J. F. Hall and wife, E. M. Pratt, J. B. Carter, J. F. Jackson, Norman B. Carter, J. S. Luckenbach and wife, L. Appleton and wife, Miss Florence J. Andrews, E. A. Forestal and wife, W. F. Bosbyshell, E. C. Bosbyshell, Robert Ingram and wife, Miss J. S. Johnson, A. W. Francisco, B. E. Ward, Professor Crow, Dr. A. E. Wheeler, a representative of the H&A A. B. and many others, whose names were not known to the reporter.

On arrival at the Orange depot carriages were in waiting to convey the guests to points of interest. A charming drive was given to all the guests for about twelve miles, among the beautiful orchards and vineyards of this delightful place. A large portion of the oranges have not been gathered and hang as golden stars in a green light.

After this delightful drive the guests pulled up at the new hotel, now nearly finished by that most enterprising citizen Mr. C. Z. Culver, in a fine park of orange trees at the corner of Glassell and Beach streets. This edifice is a model of comfort and convenience. It is 60 by 138 feet on the ground floor, with broad verandas of unique design. The front is occupied by a business office and cloak room, a large and beautiful parlor and a generous vestibule with baggage-room. Two broad stairways lead to the second story, in which are about forty rooms on suite and single, well lighted and with beautiful views. The dining room is in the center of the building is a spacious hall thirty by sixty feet, and is one of the best in the country. The kitchen, laundry, dish-room, meat room and butler's room are in a double wing in the rear. The building has electric bells, hot and cold water, and gas works erected on the premises. A tower forty-seven feet high surmounts the buildings with a fine lookout. The woodwork is of redwood, in native color and very handsomely carved and paneled. The dining room was christened by the spread of a sumptuous lunch for a hundred persons, to which ample justice was done. In front of the hotel is a park of two and a half acres, with shade trees to preserve a most delightful temperature during all the year. Mr. Culver owns a beautiful tract east of the hotel, planted with orange trees and covered with a rank growth of barley about two feet high. After lunch a large number of ladies and gentlemen examined these lots, and in a quiet way purchased of Messrs. Culver and Teale over $13,000 worth inside of an hour.

The party then drove to Santa Ana through her most beautiful streets and then took the train for home.

While en route Governor J. W. Hoyt, in a few eloquent and graceful remarks, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the thanks of this company be extended and given to our hosts for their hospitality and liberality, and their exuberant kindness and favor in displaying the beauties and glories of this Eden-land to our delighted vision, without money and without price.

The resolution was adopted unanimously.

Further notice of beautiful Orange is deferred on account of lack of space.

DAILY HERALD.

THE FLORAL FETE.

Preparations Nearly Completed for the Opening.

THE ALLEGORICAL PROCESSION.

List of the Ladies on the Various Committees and Order of Exercises.

The ladies in charge of the decoration of the pavilion in which the Flower Festival will be held, commencing next Tuesday evening, are pushing matters forward very rapidly. There is considerable work to be done yet, but with many willing hands it will all be completed in time. A faint idea of how the pavilion will look can be formed from a visit to the building at the present time. On all sides are to be seen huge piles of green branches with palm leaves and cactus spars. Over head the decorators have succeeded in producing a very artistic and pleasing effect. There are at intervals along the roof arched beams and these are faced with streamers of evergreen boughs. The center piece of each is a huge red button from which cactus spars project in all directions forming a rosette. Around the upper part of the sides, just beneath the highest windows are fan shaped designs, formed of cactus, and palm leaves. At the head of the hall with the balcony floor as a base rises an arch which reaches to the ceiling. This will be a very handsome and artistic piece of work. The balcony rail will be lined with white lilies and everywhere will be seen these flowers in profusion. To this end everybody is requested to send to the pavilion this morning thousands of lilies and marguerites. Down stairs designs of various forms can be seen in various stages of progress. On the left hand side is a huge horseshoe which will be covered with brilliant colored flowers. Further down are cypresses, ladders, and a shoe which will be a very handsome piece of work. On the other side are e'en stars, a toboggan slide and other designs which reflect credit upon the designer. The central piece will be a large fountain surrounded by a huge bank of roses. The large stage will be covered with stands of palms, ferns and other tropical plants, and the various booths with their fragrant flowers will complete an exhibition which will please the eye, as well as give the visitor some idea of the floral wealth of Southern California. In conjunction with the festival will be conducted an ice cream saloon, a restaurant and numerous soda fountains where the thirsty may be refreshed.

THE PROCESSION.

Every evening the festival will be opened with an allegorical procession under the supervision of Mrs. Widner. The allegory which will be represented by the procession is as follows:

"The sons of toil, learning of the marvellous possessions of Dame Nature, be sought her that she grant them a blessing that should lighten the burden of their lot, inspire their ignorance, decrease their discontent and cloak their poverty. The good mother was sghast at such a wholesale request, accustomed, as she was, to hearing but a single wish urged at a time, and was dumb to such demanding audacity until her children, the stars, whose eyes were ever twinkling back the tears of sorrow for the lot of their mortal half-brothers and sisters, whispered to her, when under the cover of her dark mantle, the story of life and its burdens, and prayed that she grant the cry of the toilers about her."

"The mother heart could no longer refuse; but to uphold her dignity and authority she stipulates that her various messengers shall first be propitiated. This agreement being effected the sons return to earth to prepare for their guests."

"First comes the brown earth itself—and to show the manner of entertainment, according to this visitor—the sons of toil follow, bearing the utensils often used in the reception of that substance."

"The Earth Spirit is next followed by Snow, then by Rain, next Hail, afterward appears Darkness, in whose shadow is Dew, while Frost is followed by Sunshine. After the separate guests appear some collective groups of weeds, and insects, etc. The Father Time, with his sickle, is surrounded by the Four Seasons. The list of messengers here closes and the Promise is introduced, led by the shining torch of Patience. Groups of flowers, in tens and twenties, are waving their fluttering ribbon-chains back to the season that owns them."

"Tiny Snow Drops, the Wedding Violet, the Lilies of the Field, the Rose-bud, garland of girls, the Slumber-poppy, the Pea, the Sweet Pea, and the snow-dipped Holly, each named by the herald preceding them with his gleaming banner."
